Dove Residents Garner Art Honors

EAU CLAIRE – Four Dove Healthcare residents were recognized for their talents at the Cultural Arts Contest hosted by the Wisconsin Representatives of Activity Professionals in Manitowoc, Wisconsin last month.

Kris Metcalf, Activity Director at Dove Healthcare, and Angie Blazel, Assistant Activity Director, joined more than 200 activity personnel at the state convention and submitted four entries for the Cultural Arts contest. All four took home honors.

“We offer a wide array of enrichment activities to our residents at Dove, so that they can keep cultivating and honing their talents,” said Kris Metcalf, Activity Director at Dove “We’re so proud of our honorees for their talent and hard work on these projects.”

Blue ribbons were awarded to residents Jeanette Walker for her hand made jewelry and Clarence Berger for a plastic canvas American flag, while Velma Berg’s embroidered dish towel and Viola Scherz’s recycled art work garnered runner-up ribbons.

The entries were divided into 26 different categories, with each nursing home resident receiving a certificate of participation and a ribbon. A panel of local judges view the entries, which are judged on merit.

The Cultural Arts Show is an valued opportunity for nursing homes state-wide to share and recognize the creative, talented works of their residents.
